† † † SPECIAL. † † †

†Means that we have not been able to communicate with the person named, and that the address given is as given in the former issue of the directory, or as it has been reported by others

The greatest care has been exercised in getting out this directory to make it both accurate and complete—it doubtless contains errors and in many respects is incomplete. Will you not kindly aid in making the next issue more complete and correct by reporting at once—using the card in the front of this book—any corrections which you know ought to be made.

If the alumni will take hold of this matter and send in corrections so as to make it worth while, a supplement to this directory will be issued next fall, including such changes and corrections, and also names and addresses of the class of 1901.

The class to graduate June 6th, will probably number about four hundred.

The alumni are earnestly requested to send, to the registrar of the University, notice of the death of any alumnus of the University of Minnesota. As far as possible the report should cover the following: Name, class, degree, date of birth, place of birth, date of death and place of death; name of father, maiden name of mother, name of husband, or wife; and names of children. Also a short statement of life work—including public offices held, with date of service; literary productions; important services in any other line of activity, or any other fact or event that should be noted in this connection.

Do not hesitate to send in such information as you may have, because you cannot send in all the facts. If you cannot furnish all the items mentioned above, report all that you can, and if possible, refer to some one else who may be able to furnish more material.

If the necessary material can be brought together, an obituary record, covering all of the graduates who have died, will be published some time during the coming year.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

At the annual meeting of the Alumni Association upon Wednesday of Commencement week, the Treasurer will make a report in substance as follows: Early in September last the executive committee of the association addressed a circular letter to all the alumni requesting the payment of fifty cents as annual dues for the University year 1900-1901. To facilitate the transmission of the money coin cards were also sent and to induce response from all the alumni the committee announced its determination to turn over to the Fellowship Association for the increase of its permanent fund one-half of the proceeds. The hope was expressed that at least one thousand responses would be received. A month later a second circular was sent to those who failed to respond to the first appeal. As the result of these efforts the treasurer has received the dues of 424 alumni, not as many as the committee had expected but sufficient in the opinion of the treasurer to warrant a repetition of the experiment next year. Alumni who have neglected the matter are again urged to send their payments before Commencement to the treasurer, Frank Maloy Anderson, University of Minnesota.

RAILROAD RATES.

In reply to a request for special rates for Commencement, the Western Passenger Association called attention to the rates already provided for the meeting of physicians to be held in the Twin Cities at the time of Commencement. These rates will be available to all who wish to attend the exercises of Commencement week.

THE PILLSBURY STATUE.

(From the Minnesota Daily.)

If the persons who have interested themselves in the erection of the John S. Pillsbury statue ever had any misgivings as to the degree of appreciation which would reward their efforts, these must certainly have been dispelled when they looked about them and saw the great throng that gathered to witness the ceremonies incident to the unveiling, and heard the many words of commendation and felicitation that came from everybody's mouth and heart.

The day was most typical of Minnesota—cool, still and bright. The crowd of students and citizens of Minneapolis that thronged the Library plaza and the campus about the pedestal, within hearing distance of the speakers, were in gala attire and enthusiastic and sympathetic to the sound of the orators' eloquent words.

The speakers of the afternoon stood upon a temporary platform erected at the left of the statue. The platform was prettily draped with the University and National colors, and the effect was very pleasing.

Among the prominent guests of the occasion, and seated on the platform were Gov. John Lind, ex-Senator Washburn, Mayor James Gray, Dr. W. W. Folwell, J. T. Wyman, Dean W. S. Pattee, together with many other prominent and distinguished citizens of the state of Minnesota.

The ceremonies of the afternoon opened with a musical selection from the University Cadet Band, after which Hon. Fred B. Snyder, president of the Alumni Association, in a masterly address, presented the statue to the University.

President Northrop accepted the statue on behalf of the University of Minnesota in an address filled with the most heartfelt words. His testimonial to Gov. Pillsbury's worth was one of the grandest ever uttered, and few have ever heard the president's words come so eloquently as they did yesterday. Anyone hearing him could but feel that every word that the president uttered came from the very bottom of his heart.

Senator C. K. Davis, the orator of the day, was next introduced and read from manuscript a most magnificent address. He spoke of the statues erected to men for years past, as everlasting memorials of the deeds of those men. Gov. Pillsbury was spoken of as a personal and affectionate friend, and a condensed statement of the governor's services to the state, and University especially, followed. A noteworthy incident was the senator's reference to Governor Ramsey, who was present on the platform. The senator portrayed, in a manner somewhat humorous to his hearers, the state of affairs at the University when Gov. Pillsbury first began his duties as regent. Hay was stored in one corner of the building, a turkey farm in another corner, and the floors all splintered because of chopping wood on them. The famous salt springs were mentioned, and the governor's wisdom in choosing pine lands for the University grant was commended. His eulogy of former President W. W. Folwell's efforts in building up the University in the early years was enthusiastically applauded by the speaker's auditors. The senator promised in the future to eulogize President Northrop's services in later years.

The senator read from Gov. Pillsbury's message to the legislature in which he offered to build a Science Hall to be worth $150,000 more or less, an offer which was accepted and which is borne witness to by the magnificent structure known to-day as Pillsbury Hall.

Taking up the governor's services as a legislator and governor, he recalled the fact that when Gov. Pillsbury became governor the state was a repudiating state; that through his efforts that stain was removed from the state's escutcheon and the financial affairs of the state put upon a sound basis.

The senator's oration, closing with a Latin quotation, was most magnificent.

The poem read by President Northrop, and written by Miss Myra Wiren, '00, was a most beautiful tribute to Gov Pillsbury.

President Northrop, in his most happy way, called upon Gov. Pillsbury for a few words. The governor responded, after the ovation which was tendered his coming to the front of the platform, in a few simple, heartfelt words of gratitude and appreciation of the great honor paid him. The tears rolled from the governor's eyes and his voice broke as he thanked the Alumni for their remembrance of him.

The sculptor of the statue, Daniel C. French, of New York, was introduced to the spectators that they might look upon the man who had so faithfully produced the beloved governor's form.

Upon calls from the crowd, Gov. Ramsey was introduced and he bowed his thanks for the ovation tendered him, saying only a few words. Gov. Lind responded in the same manner.

The exercises of the afternoon closed with music by the band. The event was certainly an auspicious one, not only in the history of the University, but of the State of Minnesota.

The statue will be a great adornment to the campus. It was modeled by Mr. French, the great American sculptor, and the man who executed the equestrian statue of George Washington presented to the municipality of Paris by the women of America, and unveiled on the last Fourth of July. The statue has cost about $15,000, is a little more than life size, and mounted on the granite pedestal which is familiar to all who are attending the University.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY NEWS.

The following items are, in the main, taken from the Minnesota Daily:

CHANGES IN THE BOARD OF REGENTS.

As a result of the state election of last fall, Gov. Van Sant and Superintendent John W. Olson became members of the Board of Regents in the places of Gov. Lind and Superintendent John W. Lewis.

The terms of office of Regents Mahoney, Tullar and Owen having expired, Regent Mahoney was re-appointed and the Honorable James T. Wyman, of Minneapolis, and Dr. O. C. Strickler, of New Ulm, were appointed in the places of Messrs. Owen and Tullar.

LEGISLATIVE APPROPRIATIONS.

The legislature of 1901 was liberal with the University, as will be shown by the following statement of appropriations:

To be available for current year—Deficiency in alteration of chemistry building, $8,000; artesian well, $3,000; alteration and reconstruction of chemistry building, $8,600; barn, $1,000. The University received $188,550 for buildings and also $101,000 for current expenses, of which three-tenths is to be available for the agricultural department.

PRESIDENT NORTHROP.

As usual, the year has been an exceedingly busy one for the president. He has been called upon for innumerable addresses and has responded to a large number of the calls by complying with the requests. The address delivered this spring before the Baptist convention of Chicago has called forth a large amount of very favorable criticism on account of its healthful and hopeful vigorous melioristic tone.

President Northrop was honored by President McKinley by being appointed chairman of the delegation representing the United States at the Pan-American convention, to be held at the city of Mexico, in October. This honor he was obliged to decline as he had already accepted an invitation to speak at the bi-centennial celebration of the founding of Yale, which occurs the same week.

The president has accepted an invitation to deliver the Memorial day address at the Exposition this year and he is also to deliver one of the principal addresses at the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the collge Young Men's Christian Association, to be held in Boston, June 11-16, 1901.

The President has just returned from a meeting of the western university presidents, held at Champaign, Ill. While away, he made an address before the Congregational association at Peoria, Ill.

CHANGES IN THE FACULTY.

Dr. Henry W. Brewster, principal of the school of agriculture, who was obliged to resign in order to take a much needed rest, is succeeded by Frederick D. Tucker, M. A.

Miss Alice Young, who resigned an instructorship in the department of English to accept the position of assistant professor of English and dean of women, in the University of Iowa, is succeeded by Mrs. Frances B. Potter, M. A.

Professor Hinton, who resigned from the department of mathematics to take a government position in Washington, is succeeded by Dr. Geo. N. Bauer, '94, and Dr. Gilbert A. Bliss.

Miss Anna Butner has taken the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Kiehle, of the department of physical culture, and the Preece system has been superseded by the Sargant-Anderson system.

Dr. Wm. A. Schaper, of Iowa, has been called to the position of instructor in political science. Professor Schaper won distinction at a meeting of the American Historical Association held at Detroit, Mich., during the holidays, by winning the $100 prize offered by that association for the best historical monograph. The professor's subject was, "Sectionalism and Representation in North Carolina,'

Professor Klaeber has been elected state secretary of the American Dialect Society.

By the death of Senator Cushman K. Davis, the law school has lost a member of its faculty, and the University a strong and well tried friend.

Professor Jewett, who has been traveling in Europe during the past year is to return to the University, Mr. Weyerhaeuser having provided for such a possibility by endowing a chair of Semitic Language and History.

Haydn S. Cole, lieutenant U. S. A., has been elected instructor in military science.

William R. Appleby has been made dean of the school of mines.

Dr. John S. Carlson has been elected professor of Scandinavian.

Benj. F. Groat was elected assistant professor of mathematics in the school of mines.

Frank R. McVey has been made professor of private economics.

Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith, of the school of agriculture, was made professor of home economics.

Instructors Norman Wilde and Carl Schlenker were made assistant professors in the departments of philosophy and German, respectively.

Dr. W. P. Dickinson, secretary of the college of dentistry, has been elected dean of the college.

Dr. Thomas S. Roberts was elected professor of pediatrics in the college of medicine and surgery, and Dr. J. T. Christison professor of clinical pediatrics.

Dr. Alfred Owre was elected professor of metallurgy and clinical professor of operative dentistry.

Dr. C. A. Erdmann has been elected professor of anatomy, in the department of medicine.

Dr. S. M. White has been made assistant professor of Pathology and Bacteriology.

E. P. Harding, who has been studying in Germany, has received his Ph. D. and is back at the University, in the department of chemistry.

Professor Downey has been given a leave of absence for the coming University year. He will spend the year in travel and study in Europe.

CHANGES IN THE COURSE OF STUDY AND DEGREES.

By recent action of the Board of Regents, beginning with the year 1902 and thereafter, all persons completing the course of study prescribed will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts. All other first degrees, in the college of science, literature and the arts, being abolished.

The course of study proposed by the faculty, to harmonize with the change in degree, is now in the hands of the regents and will be acted upon at the next meeting of the board, in June

In the College of S., L and A., Engineering, and the School of Mines, the three-term system has been abolished and the semester system adopted in its stead.

It is quite probable that the regents will, at their next meeting, approve the recommendation of the faculty, that the University year begin one week later in the fall and commencement week come one week later in the spring.

BENEFACTIONS.

The following letter will explain the terms of the generous gift of the Honorable J. B. Gilfillan—an ex-regent, and a true friend of the University:

MINNEAPOLIS, FEB. 8TH, 1901.

To the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota—Gentlemen:

Your favorable consideration of the proposition hereinafter set forth in detail is hereby solicited:

Actuated by my own experience from early life, I have had in mind for sometime the establishing of a fund in trust, the income from which might be used in aid of such deserving youths of our state as might be found struggling for an education beyond their own means of obtaining. As your board represents and is invested with the government of the chief educational institution of the state, it has occurred to me that you might with propriety be made the repository of such a trust and the agency for the suitable execution thereof, and the bestowal of the benefits to accrue therefrom. In case an enlargement of your powers is found to be necessary or desirable, that can be accomplished by enactment of the legislature now in session.

The fund proposed to be established will be for the present, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, to be conveyed to you by deed defining the purposes and conditions of the trust, the beneficiaries thereof and the basis upon which the benefactions shall be bestowed. The principal of such trust shall be designated "The Gilfillan Trust," and shall remain inviolate and kept invested in the same manner and by the same persons, or officers, as the permanent fund of the University, and so as to yield the best income therefrom.

The income of the said fund shall be subject to the use and disposal of the said Board of Regents for the educational purposes hereinbefore specified, either in the form of a gift or temporary loan as the said regents may deem best, the beneficiaries to be and to continue to be, within the following limitations, that is to say:

First—They must be youths of the state of Minnesota, without regard to sex.

Second—They must be and continue, of unblemished moral character, and of temperate and industrious habits.

Third—they must be such as, by examination and trial, shall evince and maintain a taste, habit and aptitude for study.

Fourth—The aid herein provided may be bestowed upon students in any of the departments of the State University, or in schools preparatory thereto.

The foregoing provisions shall be strictly construed, and as to any student who shall fail to come, or shall cease to be, within the said conditions, as so construed, shall forfeit all claim to the benefits of such fund.

It will be seen that the spirit of this benfaction is to aid and encourage such as are worthy, susceptible and willing to help themselves; none other may share its benefits.

Deeming this the best gift in my power to the state in which my whole active life has been spent, and craving your early consideration and acceptance of the same, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
J. B. Gilfillan.

Mr. H. W. Wilson, proprietor of the University Book Store, has instituted a short story prize contest, by offering prizes aggregating $100, and divided into a first prize of $50, a second prize of $25, a third of $15 and a fourth of $10.

The stories for which the prizes are offered shall be not more than 4,000 words in length, nor less than 1,000 words, subjects based on University life will be given a preference, and the first stories to be handed in will, everything else considered, be favored.

The award will be made on Commencement Day at the same time that the other awards are made.

It is not unlikely that this prize contest will be made a permanent thing, the contest to be known as the H. W. Wilson Short Story Prize Contest.

For the encouragement of studies in foundry practice, Mr. O. P. Briggs, president of the Twin City Iron Works, offers $75 annually in two prizes which are to be accompanied by gold medals.

The competition is open to sophomores in the college of engineering, and the prize will be awarded for the best essay relative to the above subject.

Mr. William H. Dunwoody, president of the St. Anthony and Dakota Elevator Co., has favored the University with a generous prize. He offers $100 to that student who shall earn the right to represent Minnesota in the Northern Oratorical League. As is already well known, this league is composed of the seven largest and best universities of the central states, viz.: Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan State Universities, and Oberlin, Chicago and Northwestern.

Mr. Frank O. Lowden, of Chicago, offers as a prize to be competed for by the Northern Oratorical League, an endowment of $3,000, which will yield an annual income of about $175. A prize of $100 will be given to the winner of first place, $50 to the orator who gets second place, and the remainder will be set aside each year for an interest fund to accumulate, and in time produce another endowment.

Prof. Maria Sanford announces a gift of $100 from Gov. John S. Pillsbury to be used for prizes in her department. Half of this sum was used this year for the Nebraska extemporary contest, and the other half for the debate between the two sections of the sophomore class. Gov. Pillsbury is the donor of the prizes to the winners of the annual oratorical contest known as the Pillsbury prizes and contest, and this is therefore his second prize offer. In making the gift the governor expressed himself as very much pleased indeed with the enthusiasm and progress being shown in debating and oratorical work at the university, and said that he considered the recent Pillsbury oratorical contest the best he had yet heard.

Mr. Frank H. Peavey, president of the Monarch Elevator Company, has added another to the long list of cash prizes offered at the University, by announcing that he would give a prize of $75 to the members of the team winning the Freshman-Sophomore debate, and another prize of $25 to the student in the Freshman or Sophomore classes writing and delivering the best oration. Both prizes will be offered this year, but Mr. Peavey has not provided them beyond the present year, although it is hoped that the success of this year's contests will induce the donor to make them fixtures.

PUBLICATIONS—FACULTY, ALUMNI, STUDENTS.

March 1st, 1901, Andrew Franklin Hillyer, '82, issued a book entitled "A Social Study of the Negro of Washington, D. C." Mr. Hillyer, at a meeting of the National Negro Business League, held in Boston last fall, presented an address on the Negro and Business, which received many favorable comments from the eastern press.

George G. Tunnell, '92, has recently issued a book, giving many interesting and valuable statistics concerning railroad transportation. A chapter is devoted to the transportation of mail matter and he shows that the annual deficit of the postoffice department is not due to the carrying of mail at too low a rate, but to the immense amount of mail carried free, under congressional franks.

Dr. W. W. Folwell, of the University, has completed the draft of an elaborate report on the employment of prison labor, begun at the request of Gov. Lind. The conditions at Stillwater were such as to make a change of plan inevitable there, and with this in view the governor appointed a commission last spring, consisting of Dr. Folwell and Senators Summerville and Baldwin to investigate and make reports on the various methods of employing prison labor. Dr. Folwell's work is a full report of what the commission found out in its investigations. It was submitted to Gov. Lind and was by him transmitted to the legislature.

Dr. W. W. Folwell has recently been chosen by Governor Van Sant, to represent Minnesota at the national conference of corrections and charities which will meet in Washington, D. C., May 9-15. Dr. Folwell is chairman of the committee on the legislation concerning charities, and will speak at this conference on the subject, "The Special Field of National Legislation."

Professor C. W. Benton, head of the French Department, edited and published during the summer a small French text book, entitled "Easy French Plays," which is meeting with decided favor from both critics and teachers alike. The little book contains three plays, with notes and vocabulary.

Last summer W. F. Webster, of the class of '86, issued a text book upon "English Composition and Literature." This book has received a most enthusiastic reception among school men and has been adopted as a text book by a large number of schools over the country.

The Richards Publishing Company of this city has recently published a novel entitled "Inis De Vrieze." The author is Miss Myra Wiren, of the class of 1900, U. of M.

Perhaps the most notable triumph any University man has yet achieved is that of Professor John Zeleny, '92, assistant professor of Physics. The Royal Society of London has just published a pamphlet written by him, entitled, "The Velocity of the Ions Produced in Gases by Roentgen Rays." This is a very important piece of work, as the publication by the Royal Society indicates, placing it in the records of the society being one of the highest honors that can be paid to a man's work.

This is Prof. Zeleny's latest article on the subject, of which, by the way, he is one of the world's acknowledged authorities. The acceptance of this work by the Royal Society brings honor not only to Mr. Zeleny, but to the University, of which he is an alumnus as well as professor.

The University Book Store has published a little book written by two 'Varsity girls, Miss Inez Lord and Miss Eva Smith, both sophomores, which is sure to prove popular, and which is a charming manifestation of the renaissance in literary interest at the University. Entitled "Fables in Maroon and Gold." The Fables are sixteen in number, readable and pleasing. They teem with 'Varsity slang and 'Varsity atmosphere—hence their name.

The Royal Astronomical Society of London recently published a treatise by Professor F. H. Leavenworth, entitled, "Photographic Measurements of the Ring Nebula in Lyra and of Neighboring Faint Stars." The measurements tabulated are from photographs taken with the ten and one-half inch refractor of the University here.

Professor McVey has recently issued a new book, "The Government of Minnesota; its History and Administration," which has attracted very favorable criticism from many sources. The following from the February number of "Book Reviews" outlines the work: "It has been the purpose of the author to present in a small volume of 240 pages a harmonious picture of the history and government of the commonwealth of Minnesota. This has been done in ten chapters, as follows: Minnesota as a Territory; Minnesota as a state; Organization of the state; the Central Government; Local Government; Nominations and Elections; the Administration of Justice; Revenue and Expenditures; Education; the Protection of the state. At the beginning of each chapter are general references to authorities, numerous foot-notes are found at the bottom of pages, while at the end of the book is an appendix containing historical material for more extensive work than the text affords. These helps, together with the carefully prepared text, make the book an unusually well equipped one to meet the needs of teaching in civil government."

Mr. Bernhard O. Leubner, instructor in the College of Pharmacy, has during the year, written an article of about 50,000 words, on "The Chemistry of the United States Pharmacopœial Preparations." The article is being printed monthly in Merck's Report, the representative scientific journal on pharmacy, having headquarters in New York and Darmstadt, Germany. Also a somewhat shorter article, entitled "Pharmaceutical Mathematics," which is now in the hands of the publishers.

Dr. Geo. N. Bauer, of the Department of Mathematics, has published "The Parallax of Cassiopeiae and the Position of Fifty-six Neighboring Stars." It is a pamphlet of 102 pages. The work is based upon twenty-eight photographic plates, taken by Rutherford, the pioneer in celestial photography.

During the past year Dean Pattee has prepared and published a book upon the subject of Contracts, containing the notes and authorities which he has collected during the past twelve years. It is arranged with special reference to the student's necessities: First a citation of authorities to be studied; second, provision for a carefully written analysis of these cases by the student; and, third, notes, showing he application of the principles of law in detail with their limitations and modifications. He has published a similar work in "Equity," and as a similar edition in "Real Property and Personality" nearly ready for the printer. Mr. Paige has prepared a similar work in the subject of "Torts." Nearly one thousand volumes have been added to the Law Library during the past year, and it is expected that about as many more will be added in the year to come, placing the Law Library among the very most complete of those possessed by the various law schools in the country.

Mr. Charles A. Willard, a member of the Faculty of Law since its inception and a diligent and valued instructor, has just been appointed to the chief justiceship of the supreme court in the Philippine Islands.

Dr. Richerd Burton, Professor of English, published a biography of Whittier, in the Beacon Biography Series, in April, 1901, and will bring out a new volume of his essays in the late autumn,—the book containing a dozen papers, most of which have appeared in the magazines and are here collected for the first time.

Frank Dewey Redfield, Law, '99, is the founder and editor of a monthly magazine, The Stub Pen, devoted to the interest of authors of the Northwest. The first number appeared March 1st, 1901.

The doctoral thesis of Mr. Charles D. Abbetmeyer on "Moral Evil in Old English Literature" will be printed in the philological journal Anglia.

During the past year Professor Samuel B. Green has published a third edition each of "Amateur Fruit Growing" and of "Vegetable Gardening," both of which are text books used in the School of Agriculture. He has now in preparation a revision of "Forestry in Minnesota," of which a new edition of 10,000 will be published sometime this season; he has also in preparation, and nearly completed, a "Syllabus of Green House Laboratory Work for Students in Horticulture."

Professor Harry Snyder has published one bulletin on "Studies on Bread and Bread Making," issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

During the past year Professor Thomas Shaw has issued a book, "The Study of Breeds."

Professor Downey's "Higher Algebra," which appeared the latter part of last July, has already reached the sixth edition. Part I., which includes the first fifteen chapters, is used in many of the high schools of the state, and will doubtless be introduced into the rest, as it leads directly to the work done in the University. The author is now preparing a chapter on "Determinants," for which there is a demand in some quarters, to appear in the next edition of the complete book.

The edition of Professor Downey's little work on "Differentiation and Integration" being exhausted, a new and somewhat enlarged edition will be published for next year.

Volume I. of Professor Gale's "Psychological Studies" was published during the summer. The studies, a volume of 175 pages, are the result of original work, the largest part done by Mr. Gale himself, the remainder under his direction, in the Psychological laboratory. They form the largest single contribution yet made to experimental psychology. Contents: "Our Nervous System and Its Use"; "On the Psychology of Advertising"; "The Vocabularies of Two Children of One Family Two and a Half Years of Age," by M. C. and H. Gale; "Taste and Smell in Articles of Diet," by Roy W. Tallman, with postscript by H. Gale; "A Case of Alleged Loss of Personal Identity; Psychical Research in American Universities"; "Catalog of Lantern Slides; For Use in Lectures on the Nervous System," being 47 reproductions on schematic cuts and plates and 79 original micro-photographs.

Also an article by Mr. Gale, entitled "A Typical Adolescent Religious Experience," appeared in the September number of the Journal of Adolescence. This is a frank and thoughtful analysis, in the light of modern scientific conclusions, of the writer's own long and thoroughly-tested religious experience.

Professor Klaeber is engaged upon an edition of "The Beowulf," to form the first number of a new series of college editions started by Heath & Co.

O. W. Oestlund, M. A. instructor in entomology, has recently issued a laboratory guide for the use of the classes in entomology.

Hubert C. Carel, B. S., assistant professor of medical chemistry, has issued a syllabus upon inorganic chemistry, a book of about 175 pages.

The University Book Store will issue during the coming summer, for Professor Woodbridge, "Hobbes' Leviathan," including a part of the original text, and notes.

Allyn & Bacon will publish during the coming summer, for Professor Willis M. West, an Ancient History, a text book for use in high schools.

ANATOMICAL EQUIPMENT.

Among the departments of the Medical School which will always be of interest to its Alumni, is that of Anatomy.

With the advent of Professor G. A. Hendricks, in the fall of '89, a graded course was established, which has since been maintained, and copied by nearly all other medical schools. Owing to Professor Hendricks' untiring labors and enthusiasism, coupled with his brilliancy as a teacher, the subject soon became one of the best taught, and deservedly popular with the student body and profession. The department has long since outgrown its old quarters in the Medical Hall, and is now housed in a laboratory building of its own.

The laboratory, though modest in size, is without its kind in this country. It is a two-story and basement building. In the basement are the morgue, injecting room, a cold storage vault and a two-ton carbonic acid gas refrigerating machine.

On the first floor is an amphitheater seating one hundred students, the offices of the professor and demonstrator, a laboratory for research work and the museum. The museum, though still in embryo, is rapidly growing, and at the present time has a splendid collection of bones and skulls, normal and pathological; a good collection of the comparative skeletons of the vertebrates, and has added to it the past year a complete set of Professor His's famous plaster models from frozen sections. The entire second floor is devoted to laboratories for practical work.

This work is now conducted in a thoroughly scientific manner, and when the students are at work presents a most interesting and inspiring sight. The laboratory is open all the year and offers to the graduate students opportunity to refresh their knowledge. The past year six graduate students availed themselves of this opportunity.

The corps of instructors now comprise a professor, demonstrator and prosector, which teaching force it is hoped will be soon increased.

Extensive improvements have been made in the Mechanical Engineering Department, both in the lines of laboratory work and shop practice. During the past year the Mechanical Laboratory has been increased by the addition of the space formerly occupied by the Pattern Shop and considerable new apparatus and machinery have been added. Prominent among these is a 25-H. P. Chandler & Taylor, high speed automatic engine with condenser, an 8-H. P. White gasoline engine, and a small transverse hydraulic testing machine. In addition to these a new testing table has been erected and equipped for testing water meters. The air brake testing department is being fitted with additionol equipment.

In the shops a new Whiting cupola, 27″ inside diameter, has been erected, besides two very complete brass furnaces, designed and built by the students. A new planer will be added to the wood-working department during the summer. The shops next fall will be ready to accommodate about twice as many students as heretofore. Among the new machinery to be purchased is a 30″x10′ lathe, a 36″x8′ planer, a 16″x12′ lathe, a large milling machine and a Gisholt tool grinder, besides a good assortment of small tools.

Electrical power is used for driving the machinery; the group system has been selected as best adapted to the conditions, and a number of small motors placed in the several departments; 220-volt, continuous current motors are employed in connection with a three-wire system which is also used in the circuit.

An addition to the present shops will be built at once, to include large drawing rooms, recitation rooms, reading room and offices, for the Mechanical Department. This addition will also contain up-to-date blue print facilities.

The Department of Electrical Engineering reports that during the past year much attention has been given to an investigation of various systems of train lighting, and papers before the Northwest Railway Club and before the St. Louis Railway Club have been well received and have been widely quoted.

An automatic recording apparatus has been perfected for securing autographic records of rapid changes in current and voltage; with this apparatus, valuable records have been secured, showing the instantaneous values of the current, taken by electric elevators and similar apparatus.

Original work now in progress includes an efficiency test of the electrical transmission between the main power house and the substation of the Minneapolis General Electric Company, tests of power used in the railway shops at Oelwin, Iowa, and in South Minneapolis, and design of electric power plant for the latter, tests of efficiency and regulation of train electric lighting apparatus, tests of electric automobiles and tests of series incandescent street lighting systems.

The appropriations of the late legislature will provide for the erection of an electrical laboratory and its equipment during the year.

ALUMNI IN THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

(From the Minnesota Daily.)

In the senate, Allen J. Greer, '81, a prominent attorney from Lake City, and one of the most influential members of the senate, a Republican in politics.

Fred B. Snyder, '81, an attorney at law in this city, a senator from the district in which the University is located. He has served several terms with great credit to himself, and with great benefit to the University. He has fought hard for appropriation bills and has come out victorious many a time when the battle seemed to be going against him.

Ripley B. Brower, Law, '91, a well known attorney from St Cloud, representing one of the best districts in the state.

P. Fitzpatrick and E. T. Young, both attended the University, but neither graduated. They took work both in the Academic and Law Colleges, and are prominent members of the senate.

In the house of representatives, there are six alumni, all graduates of the College of Law. Three of these are from the city of Minneapolis. All have graduated during the nineties.

Geo. W. Armstrong, '99, served in the Spanish-American War in the Thirteenth Minnesota Regiment. He has not forgotten his comrades as is evidenced by the bill passed in their behalf, attention to which was called in a recent issue of this paper.

J. C. Sweet, '93, represents the district in which the University is located. He is a prominent attorney in the city, and for some years has been a lecturer in the College of Law.

C. L. Wallace, '97, has a lucrative law practice, and handles besides a large bond company's business.

The other 'Varsity men outside of the city are: G. W. Harden, '91, of Le Roy; J. R. Hickey, '94, Graceville; and J. A. Jackson, '93.

George C. Sikes is secretary of the Street Railway Commission of Chicago; a place for which he is peculiarly well fitted and which he is filling in a way to bring honor to himself and his alma mater.

"Joe" Blethen has written a number of delightful short stories for current periodicals. He says that there are more where those came from.

Chester N. Gould is studying philology in Leipzig. He has been appointed Fellow in Germanics at Chicago University for the coming year.

The following is taken from the Minnesota Daily of January 31st:

Two hundred prominent men of the state came together at the West Hotel Tuesday night to do honor to a man who, as consul general of the United States, has not only, in the last four years, won glory for himself by his strict attention to his work and by his rare diplomacy in matters of state, but who has made the country which he serves looked up to in China, and who has made the consulate service of the United States stand for far more than it did before John Goodnow, a University graduate of the class of '79, went to his post in Shanghai. There were present at the banquet given in his honor, the president of the University, a governor and an ex-governor of the state, a mayor and two ex-mayors of Minneapolis, the speaker of the state house of representatives, and many other noted guests, while regrets were read from such men as Secretary of State John Hay, Wu Ting Fang, Chinese minister at Washington, and A. A. Adee, assistant secretary of state.

Among those responding to toasts were Mayor Ames, Governor Van Sant, A. H. Hall, Samuel Hill, Rev. J. S. Montgomery, Speaker Dowling, James Gray, besides the guest of honor and our own President Northrop. Judge Simpson was toastmaster and served very happily.

UNIVERSITY ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES.

Dramatization of the Odyssey.

There was a large attendance to witness the dramatization of the Odyssey. Of course the play was different from the modern plays and so was probably different from what was expected by many of the audience, but the insight that it gave into Greek life and manners was both interesting and instructive. In general the parts were all well taken. The costumes were very attractive. Among the most interesting parts of the play were the ball playing by the girls and the gymnastic contests.

The Greek department has won a great reputation for itself and has by this play unquestionably stimulated greater interest in Greek throughout the city at least.

The play was under the direct supervision and direction of Mabel Hay Barrows, to whose able and untiring energies its success was largely due.

This year, under the direction of C. A. Marshall for the Glee club, and Francis Robertson for the Mandolin club, a concert was given at the Lyceum Theater March 28th and a week's trip followed in the southern part of the state, including Mason City, Iowa. The boys had a special car for the trip and were entertained in homes in the places visited, besides being tendered several receptions. In most places there were good audiences, so that financially the organization was ahead when they reached home. The newspapers of the towns visited were loud in their praise of the work done by both clubs.

The three plays which the University Dramatic Club have been preparing so faithfully this year, were given Monday night, Feb. 11, at the Lyceum theater. The work of all the actors was commendable and showed careful preparation.

The Club selected three one-act plays this year, which suited the taste of the audience far better than the plan of last year.

"A Woman's Won't" was the first one on the program. The play itself was very simple, but the acting was clever, and as a whole most commendable.

"At the Barricade" came next on the program and showed the strongest acting of the evening. "A Flower of Yeddo" was the last play of the evening. All the members on the cast deserve equal and very high commendation for their work. The stage setting of this play was pretty and in keeping with its quiet and refined nature.

THE WOMAN'S LEAGUE.

The Woman's League is an organization composed of all women of the University who desire to join, and of the wives of the members of the faculty. The four hundred and thirty girls who belong to the League are divided into twenty-four groups and to each of these groups belong one or two faculty women. The groups meet in the afternoon of the second Saturday of each month for purely social purposes, and occasionally all groups meet together for a general reception. The object of the League is to establish friendly and personal relations between the girls of the University and the women of the faculty. It is hoped that through the influence of the League, a Woman's Building may eventually be established as a home for the girls of the University.

MUSIC.

After a great deal of serious consideration, the committee of the faculty evolved an excellent plan for the development of true appreciation of music among the students which will no doubt raise the standard of music and educate the students to a better musical taste. The plan included a choral union which has been organized and has been at work during the latter part of the year.

On Thursday or Friday of each week ,a classical program is presented in which the best musical talent in the cities appears. The great composers and their works are taken up in chronological order from Bach to Mozart and Beethoven. The first two programs were devoted to Bach, the first to his vocal productions, the second to his instrumental music. Other artists were studied later.

For the coming year the department of psychology offers a special course in the psychology of music, as follows:

Lectures with experimental demonstrations to analyze the total æsthetic effects of music into its elementary components of tone quality and quantity, rhythm, melody, harmony, contrast, with the biographical, historical and personal associations, and its connections with poetry in songs and with the drama in opera. Based largely on original experimental material, together with such works as those of Helmholtz, Koenig, Stumpf, Riemann, Zahn, Lanier, Gurney, Gilman, Wallaschek and R. Wagner.

Extra hours will be given as illustrations in different forms of piano compositions, chamber music, song cycles of Schubert, Schuman and Brahms; piano arrangements of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, and at least of Parsifal from Wagner's music-dramas. Special lectures will be given preparatory to the best public concerts during the musical season.

The system of physical culture which Miss Butner has introduced at the University this year, is different in many respects from that employed here before. It is more of a gymnasium course, the purpose is to develop first strength of muscle in the girls and afterwards take up the exercises that produce grace.

All the apparatus needed has been provided for, and some work was done with the dumb bells, Indian clubs and wands early in the year. Because of the lack of apparatus at the opening of the year and the fact that the system is new here, real work did not begin until after the holidays. Much æsthetic work has been done, including the fancy steps, arm movements, and the like.

Through the efforts of E. E. McDermott, assistant professor of rhetoric, a Minnesota High School Debating League is being organized. The plan includes all accredited high schools in the state. For convenience the state is subdivided into districts coincident with the congressional districts. A series of contests will be carried out in each district. Then the winners of each district will compete and finally the two schools standing without defeat will meet in Minneapolis for the championship and the possession of a $200 prize cup which has been offered by the Minneapolis Journal. The organization will be completed and the resolution for next year's discussion will be submitted in May.

Enthusiastic letters of commendation and support are coming in from superintendents and principals all over the state.

Such a league will stimulate high school rhetorical work. But it will do more than this. Through friendly rivalry, better acquaintance and interchange of ideas, the best there is in any school will be carried to others, and thus raise the standard of all.

Besides the handsome prize, mentioned above, the Minneapolis Journal will give to each of the three debaters who win in final contest, a handsome gold badge and it will report all matters of interest when the series of contests is being carried out.

In time this league will unquestionably bring results beneficial to the University.

Through the efforts of the Rhetorical Department and the generosity of friends of the University the number and value of prizes for which students in debate and oratory can compete has been greatly augmented in the last two years. Nearly $500 in cash and numerous prize cups and medals are awarded each year. Only three other universities in the United States now offer as tempting prizes to ambitious students in forensics as does the University of Minnesota.

The whole system of debate and oratory has been reorganized in the last three years and placed on a firmer basis than ever before. Seven strong literary societies are maintained and a debating board, composed of four members of the faculty and three student members, now has control of all matters pertaining to contests in debate and oratory. The University now belongs to five inter-collegiate and inter-state leagues.

THE UNIVERSITY CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION.

The University Catholic Association was organized in the spring of 1900 by the Catholic students of the University. Membership is open to any one connected with the institution and those interested in the work of the organization are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

During the first part of the year the association was addressed every Sunday by one of the various priests of the city upon a series of connected topics. In the spring a course of lectures upon the "Fundamental Doctrine of the Church," by Father P. J. Danehy, of the St. Paul Seminary, appointed director of the association by Arch-Bishop Ireland.

At the opening of the college year the association gave a reception to its members, and a similar entertainment was held after the holiday recess. Through the courtesy of the two other Christian associations at the University, the meetings have been held in the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. or Y. M. C. A. Any further information regarding the association can be obtained by addressing the president.

ATHLETICS.

Roy Wirt Allis, of University of Minnesota, broke all intercollegiate records in the strength contest in an official test made in the gymnasium on the 31st of last March. The new record is 1885 kilos, or sixteen kilos ahead of the record made by ex-Champion Herbert, of Harvard. Allis will, without any doubt, have even a better record to his credit by May 1st, when the final reports are sent in from the various colleges of the country. Allis' home is in Oronoco, Minn., where he has spent the greater part of his life. He is taking the literary course, as special student, and his record as a student is good. Allis attends the gymnasium daily for an hour's systematic work. His gymnasium training is methodical, but he never overtrains and his habits are excellent. His work is an example of what anyone may accomplish for himself by faithful application to systematic body building work.

Allis' strength records compared with those of the two ex-champions of Harvard, Herbert and Cochems:

	Lungs	Back	Legs	Push Up	Pull Up	Chest and Upper Arms	Right Forearm	Left Forearm	Total Strength
R. W. Allis.....	3.11	325	601	70	45	811.9	62	54	1885
C. G. Herbert.....	32	420	740	50	42	611	73	71	1869
H. F. Cochems....	47	350	690	30	27	491.9	87	74	1809

April 30th—Allis made a new record of 1940 kilos.

In the official test for the fifty strongest men in any college in the country, the University of Minnesota, ranks third. This speaks exceedingly well for the gymnasium work done at the University of Minnesota and for Dr. Cooke's system of training.

FOOT BALL.

DR. HENRY L. WILLIAMS.

The following is taken from the Minnesota Daily of Nov. 6th, 1900:

"If Wisconsin cares to lay her defeat on any one man, she must pick out as the burden bearer, Dr. Williams, Minnseota's athletic director. No one is more responsible for that defeat than the man whom Minnesota now honors and idolizes as the master spirit in her athletic affairs. Tutored in his football lore in the same school with Stagg, he has in his first year as director of a big team, met that experienced rival and proven himself more than an equal; matched against the prowess of Phil King, he has, three short weeks after one glorious victory, achieved another even greater and more brilliant.

And how did Dr. Williams do it? Unassuming and retiring; saying little and desiring to say less; he has gone ahead and out of the rawest kind of material, in two months, made a championship team,—a team that is the marvel of the west and of the east as well. Criticised at first by the so-called critics of the Twin Cities and by many of the students, he has paid no attention to written or verbal advice, and has evolved a football team. The result can be attributed to nothing more than to a mental acumen sharper than the ordinary; to a knowledge of human nature not possessed by many, and to an overwhelming desire to do his best under adverse circumsances. With very little to start with other than ambition on the part of a squad of fifty men or so, one man's intellect has made Minnesota's team what it is today, and that intellect is Dr. Williams'.

The University of Minnesota is proud to praise him and to do him honor. The students have come to love him and to idolize him, and no man more deserves the glory that is his.

Long may Minnesota glory in his works and deeds.

The following clipping was taken from the football issue of the Minnesota Daily:

A WORD FROM PRESIDENT NORTHROP.

This year for the first time I have thoroughly approved of football at the University of Minnesota. The team has been under the training of a gentleman who understood scientific football; who knew how to deal with young men; whose influence over the team has been in all respects good; and who has succeeded in clearing the atmosphere of several things that have heretofore been a blemish to the game.

In the next place the finances have been managed with skill and care and honesty.

And in the third place the team has done its work nobly, exhibiting the most delightful spirit of docility, obedience and pluck. I do not doubt that every man on the team is more of a man in every way than he would have been but for his training and work on the team.

As a result of all these things the games have been enjoyed by delighted audiences, and Minnesota has been placed where she belongs—at the head. CYRUS NORTHROP.

DR. WILLIAMS' WISE WORDS.

A brief review of the successful football season through which we have just passed is not without interest, and cannot fail to point out some lessons which it will be well to store in mind for future guidance.

The development and perfecting of a football team is something which cannot suddenly be brought about, but requires both time and labor for its accomplishment. To some it may perhaps be a surprise to learn that active work in direct preparation for the past football season has been in progress ever since last March. This, however, is the fact. The hand of Captain Page in the work of developing the team is well known to the football men themselves, and to those who have been intimately associated with them, but has been scarcely realized or appreciated by the general student body.

It is found in the history of every great football team which has met with the highest degree of success, that it has possessed a great captain. So has it been this past year with the football team of the University of Minnesota. When on March last the engagement of the present athletic director occurred, Captain Page started at once a vigorous correspondence, and after receiving a few diagrams and suggestions, immediately inaugurated spring practice and laid the foundation for the fall work.

Those early spring days must have offered many discouragements. On some days he was himself the only man out for practice, while on others, only one or two were present with him. But, in spite of obstacles which would have been barriers to a less determined leader, the work continued until a band of thirty men from among the most desirable material in the University had become interested and pledged to work throughout the fall for the best interests and success of the team, whether they should receive place on the first eleven or not. For six weeks during the spring term football drills, consisting in signal practice, kicking contests, and evening blackboard talks and demonstrations, were conducted by the captain. Thus it was that on reassembling in the fall the foundation for the new system of play had been already laid, and rapid progress was made possible. The leadership of the captain, not simply a player whose ability in his position is not equalled in the West, but a man whose manly character, high ideals, determined spirit and kindly goodfellowship have impressed themselves on all, has been the inspiring note that has roused the will in every man on the team to do great things.

Particularly noticeable during the practice of the team has been the fact that all elements that have contributed to bring about this result have worked in absolute harmony. No slight jar or discord has tended in the slightest degree to bring about internal disruption, and the growth and development of the team has been systematically progressive during the entire fall.

The preliminary training for two weeks at the camp on Lake Minnetonka, before the opening of the term, proved also to be of inestimable advantage. Without this it is unlikely that it would have been possible to meet successfully on Oct. 13th, the University of Chicago with its seven seasoned veterans from last year's championship team. What Prof. F. S. Jones, chairman of the board of control, has contributed cannot be told in a few lines. Taking in hand the athletic situation when things were at their darkest, his untiring energy, constant support, faith in ultimate success, diplomatic handling of delicate situations and, above all, his honest hard work and unremitting service which has often been a drudgery, has done more to bring about our present standing in football, than the work of any other one man.

A very encouraging feature of the fall's work, as we look back upon it, is the fact that we can see many faults in the team even when at its best. Were this not so, the expectation of a still better team next year would not be present with us. We now expect that the greater number of this year's eleven will be with us for another season.

With such a nucleus to build on it is reasonable to hope that even greater strength may be looked for in the team of 1901.

A warning note must, however, here be sounded. If the fact that we have so promising an outlook shall detract one iota from the hard work or discipline among the candidates for the eleven which is next to be, our apparent brilliant prospects may prove our undoing, and not a blessing.

We shall trust that no such catastrophe will befall us.

H. L. WILLIAMS.

Yesterday the Daily printed Walter Camp's review of the middle west football season, and to-day it prints Casper Whitney's review published in the January number of Outing. Unlike Mr. Camp, Mr. Whitney takes no neutral ground and comes out decidedly for Minnesota as the champion team of the west. These two reviews ought to settle once for all the championship matter in regard to which certain other western institutions have been "doubting Thomases."

Mr. Whitney says in his review:

"The present season has witnessed a decided advance in the standard of football in the middle west. Not only have the defensive tactics of the western teams been of an unusually high order, but in offensive, also, marked improvement has been shown.

"At the University of Minnesota, Dr. Williams has inaugurated a system of attack entirely new in the west, and which he has been developing for some years at the Penn Charter school in Philadelphia. In this old Yale football has been abandoned, and in its place formation plays consisting of tackle-back, tackle-over, tackle and end-over in various combinations have been exclusively adopted. This style admits of either a close or an open game, and Minnesota has certainly used it this year with phenomenal success.

"Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa can at once be assigned to the first-class without question and with no near competitors. Iowa's claim to a place in this class rests entirely upon the record of her scores against teams of the second class, as she has played neither Minnesota nor Wisconsin. Neither Minnesota nor Iowa has been defeated, while the only game lost by Wisconsin was to Minnesota by the close score of 5 to 6. The game played upon the 3d of November, and deservedly won by Minnesota, clearly establishes her title to superiority over Wisconsin.

"An analysis of this game shows that, in securing her touchdown, Wisconsin obtained the ball 82 yards from Minnesota's goal; then, by 32 yards advances, made by rushes, and by 40 yards granted for Minnesota's offside play, carried the ball to Minnesota's 12-yard line, when they were held and thrown for a loss. Here, on the third down, with eight yards to gain, Wisconsin executed a quarter-back kick which sent the ball across the goal line near the corner. Dobie, playing full-back for Minnesota, fumbled the ball, and Cochems of Wisconsin fell on it, securing a touchdown, from which a difficult goal was missed.

"Minnesota's goal, on the other hand, was made by carrying the ball straight up the field for 62 yards, aided by a penalty of 10 yards, and planting the ball between the goal posts for a touchdown, followed by an easy goal. During the entire game, in rushes Minnesota advanced the ball 310 yards; Wisconsin, 212. Minnesota's kicks aggregated 313 yards; those of Wisconsin, 318. Wisconsin's claim to first place is thus effectually disposed of.

"In considering the relative claims of Minnesota and Iowa, the games played by these institutions against Chicago and Northwestern furnish the standard of comparison. The Minnesota-Chicago game, played upon the second Saturday in October, although resulting in a tie score of 6 to 6, was a virtual victory for Minnesota. Three weeks later, after Chicago had encountered and gone down before both Brown and Pennslyvania, Iowa met and defeated her by a score of 17 to 0. During the first half this game was played upon even terms; but in the second half Chicago went to pieces and Iowa had things all her own way. On the following Saturday, Nov. 10, Northwestern succeeded in defeating Chicago 5 to 0, after a hard, close game, in which the two teams seemed about evenly matched. One week later, fresh from victory over Chicago, Northwestern met Minnesota and was defeated by a score of 0 to 21 in a game which was cut short twelve minutes on account of darkness and Northwestern entirely outclassed. Iowa's game with Northwestern upon Thanksgiving Day at once became of importance in determining Iowa's rating. The game resulted in a score of 5 to 5, Iowa scarcely holding her own. Iowa's score of 28 to 5 against Michigan became of less importance in the light of Michigan's subsequent work.

"A careful and impartial consideration of these facts would, therefore, seem to show clarly that to Minnesota the first place should unquestionably be accorded.

"Wisconsin's overwhelming defeat of Chicago by a score of 39 to 5, Nov. 17, and her exceedingly close game with Minnesota, would seem to indicate her probable superiority over Iowa.

"The tie game which Iowa played with Northwestern when at the acme of her course of training has greatly lessened her rating."

Mr. Whitney rates the teams of the middle west as follows: Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Northwestern, Chicago, Nebraska, Michigan and Illinois.

THE ALL-WESTERN TEAM.

In the February Outing, Caspar Whitney places on the all-western eleven four Minnesota men, viz.: Page at center, Aune at end, Dobie as quarter and Knowlton at full-back.

On the second team he would place Mueller and Flynn at guard, Fee and Tweet at tackle, Hoyt end and Van Valkenburg half, six in all from Minnesota. Mr. Whitney's all-western team is:

Riorden (Wisconsin) and E. Dietz (Northwestern) guards.
Curtis (Wisconsin) and Warner (Iowa) tackles.
Aune (Minnesota) and Snow (Michigan) ends.
Dobie (Minnesota) quarter.
Henry (Chicago) and Larson (Wisconsin) halves.
Knowlton (Minnesota) full.

BASEBALL.

The team of 1900 was an excellent one in every respect and the outcome of the season's games was the best ever attained by a baseball team representing this University. Among the bright points to be noted are the three straight games won from Wisconsin.

The team of the present year is composed of good material and will doubtless give a good account of itself. The following is the schedule:

April 16, Hamline Medics, Northrop Field.
April 17, Macalester, Northrop Field.
April 18, Shattuck, Northrop Field.

BASKET BALL.

During the past winter the University has had the best basket ball team in its history. The following table of scores shows the kind of basket ball the team played.

Minnesota, 31; Alumni, 2.
Minnesota, 72; Carleton, 3.
Minnesota, 27; Central High School, 4.
Minnesota, 17; Farm School, second team, 4. (first half).
Minnesota, 37; St. Paul Y. M. C. A., 19.
Minnesota, 23; West Superior Normal, 5.
Minnesota, 12; West Superior Normal, 14.

Minnesota, 38; Iowa, 5.
Minnesota, 27; Fargo Y. M. C. A., 7.
Minnesota, 26; Fargo College, 5.
Minnesota, 25; North Dakota Agricultural College, 5.
Minnesota, 42; Wisconsin, 15.
Total score, Minnesota, 386; opponents, 88.

The School of Agriculture basket ball team made an enviable record for itself—defeating every team it met during the season.

TRACK EVENTS.

The prospect for a creditable track team for this spring are good. There are no particularly brilliant stars, but there are about forty men in active training and at least twenty-five of these men are doing good work. The miserable condition of the track is a serious handicap, but a reasonably good showing may be expected. In the dual meet with Iowa, which will be held May 17th, the contest should be close and exciting. In the middle and long distances, Iowa is said to be superior, while in the high jump and hurdles Minnesota should have the advantage. The fact that firsts only count in the dual meet will be a decided disadvantage to Minnesota inasmuch as they would fare far better in a contest where team work could be brought into play, than where the work of brilliant individuals alone decides the day. The Minnesota contingent may nevertheless have a reasonable expectation of winning the day. The men who shall represent Minnesota in the different events will be selected entirely by competition. As a preparation for the Iowa meet, and to determine the relative merits of the candidates for the team, the University spring sports will be held on Saturday, May 11, at Northrop Field.

It is proposed by the management to make these sports an annual feature and a very attractive entertainment. They most certainly prove an even greater success than were the winter indoor games that were held in the University Armory just before the outdoor work was begun. It is proposed also to hold several relay events, and events open to the preparatory schools.

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE.

This year by far the largest class that was ever graduated from the Agricultural School, was graduated and have returned to the activities of the farm. Whereas, for some years past, the classes have ranged from twenty-five to forty, this year it increased to sixty-three. But this is only an outward sign of the marvelous growth that agricultural education has been enjoying recently; the true development and increasing importance can only be realized after one has taken the trouble to visit the school and more thoroughly investigate the work done. To one who has not come into closer sympathy with agricultural education than reading the press notices of basket ball games or class commencements, the true practical and economical importance of the work is never realized; but to those who take the time and expend the effort to see for themselves, with their own eyes, there is a great revelation in store. The most favorable time for an enjoyable visit to the school is during the week of commencement.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

The Summer School for 1901 will open June 24th and close August 2nd, the term being increased to six weeks. This will make possible more thorough and practical courses of instruction in both sections.

SPANISH G. A. R.

The faculty and students of the University have presented medals to all members of the student body, past or present, who took part in the Spanish-American war. Two hundred and ten persons have received this recognition. An act of the legislature, passed some time ago, permitted all residents of Minnesota who had served in the Spanish-American war and who were or might become students of the University to receive free tuition throughout their course. During the session now in progress the legislature has widened this concession by providing that all veteran students who had paid tuition before the passage of the act should be entitled to repayment of the full amount.

The men who served in the Spanish war have formed an association in the University. There are at present in the University over seventy-five students who are receiving the benefits of the law mentioned above.

ALUMNI ORGANIZATIONS.

WORTHINGTON ALUMNI.

Miss Jessie Coxe, '00, reports upon the organization of the alumni association at Worthington, Minn., as follows:

On Friday night, March 8th, the alumni of the U. of M., who are now living in Worthington, Minn., formed a University club. There were twelve charter members of the club, including Mrs. Katherine Manson Curran, ex-'94, Jessie E. Coxe, '00; Dr. F. M. Manson, '99; Mrs. F. M. Manson (nee Husted), ex-'94; Dr. F. F. Riley Dent, '00; Joseph Arbes, Mr. E. E. Wilson, law. '96; the Misses Mabel and Rubie E. Smith, '98; Mr. J. A. Town, Dr. Geyerman, '99; Mr. Moberly, '00. Dr. and Mrs. Manson entertained the club at their home the night that the organization was perfected. The members of the newly formed club were surprised to find how much enthusiastic college spirit had been slumbering within the precincts of Worthington.

A song, written expressly for the occasion, was then sung, and later in the evening, the refreshments carried out the color scheme. A cake, which was a surprise to the hostess, was produced, iced in as near maroon as icing could be made, with the letters, "U. of M.," in gold, and a miniature pennant waving majestically.

But the feature of the evening was a "university salad." This was served in a bright new dishpan, with a profusion of green tissue paper, lettuce leaves, and bran dressing. Each guest helped himself by the use of a large skimmer, and by digging deep into the bran, to a package which, when unrolled, proved to be a souvenir fitting the occasion. One fortunate man received a small "Co-ed.," dressed in mortar board and gown, one of our medical members received a miniature skeleton, another guest a gopher, realistically wrought in maroon and gold.

"After more college music the assembly broke up, each one voting that enthusiasm for "U. of M." was not dead, nor even sleeping at Worthington. We would urge upon all who have gone from the portals, to try the plan of organization, and don't forget the "University salad." The recipe is simple and you will find it most nourishing for spirit.

THE CHICAGO ASSOCIATION.

CHICAGO, April 26, 1901.

Mr. E. B. Johnson, Registrar University of Minnesota—

My Dear Mr. Johnson: I find your letter awaiting me upon my return to the city after an absence. I do not believe I can make a report on the Alumni association that will be worth much. The fact is that George Merrill was the moving force of the Alumni association, and when he left everything seemed to drop. Dawley is president, but I cannot name the other officers. The association has had but two meetings. One was in the Theological assembly rooms on the West side, where Merrill was then a student. The other was a dinner at the Sherman house when the football team was here a year ago last fall. I am in hopes the association can be got together again for another dinner before long, but at the present time there seems to be nothing to report. With best wishes, I am yours sincerely,

GEORGE C. SIKES.

OMAHA ASSOCIATION.

Judge William W. Keysor, '79, reports that the association at Omaha, Nebraska, has ceased to be, all the alumni, except two, having moved away.

SPOKANE ASSOCIATION.

Dr. George A. Gray, '95 and '98, reports for the association:

The University of Minnesota Alumni Association of Eastern Washington at Spokane was formed December, 1899, with twenty charter members.

The purposes of the organization are (1) To entertain any of our professors who may chance to be in the city; (2) to become better acquainted with each other; (3) to be a committee for information to any of the Minnesota men who may be looking for new homes or new locations. Last summer we had the pleasure of meeting and entertaining Miss Maria L. Sanford while she was in the city.

Meetings are held at the call of the officers of the society, but we aim to have about six meetings annually. Joseph Rosslow is president; A. F. Maxwell, secretary.

SEATTLE ASSOCIATION.

Alden Joseph Blethen, Jr., '91, reports a vigorous association, with a membership of eighteen, at Seattle, Washington.

The present officers are: George N. Salisbury, '83, president; Horace A. Wilson, '97, vice president; Joseph Blethen, Jr., '91, secretary.

There is no regular time for meeting. The president calls a meeting whenever he thinks it necessary or expedient. The object of the association is to meet and welcome "U. of M." graduates, professors and students, and to build up a local club as more members settle in Seattle.

GRAND FORKS.

Joseph Kennedy, '86, professor of pedagogy and psychology in the University of North Dakota, writes that there has never been a formal organization of alumni at that place. There was an informal gathering of about ten alumni, at his home, at the time of the State Teachers' meeting of 1900. They compared notes and talked over old times and enjoyed the evening to the full.

NEW YORK ASSOCIATION.

Benjamin C. Gruenberg, '96, reports for the New York association as follows:

Properly speaking, the University of Minnesota has no alumni association in New York City. In the fall of 1899 I spent two weeks in hard work trying to find out what 'Varsity people were in this part of the country. Starting with your bulletin of August, 1899, I interviewed nearly all I could find in New York and Brooklyn, and nearly every interview brought more names. When assured, finally, of the support and approval of some two dozen "representatives," I arranged for a meet and feed at the Hotel Marlborough, on the evening of Dec. 13, 1899. The question of formal organization was broached but laid on the table, which was presided over by Dr. Peckham, the dean of the colony. An executive "committee" of three (Francis B. Summer, Grant B. Rossman and myself) was elected and instructed to provide more meetings, which instructions were carried out by the committee, and culminated in another dinner, at the "Arena," on April 28, 1900. The question of organization was again laid on the table, and another committee entrusted with the affairs of the "Eastern Representatives," (Francis B. Sumner, Susan H. Olmstead, D. T. MacDougal and yours truly). At this time there was issued a little Directory, in connection with the announcement, and this was greatly appreciated by many alumni who had long been out of touch with the University, and served to bring many together.

The third dinner was held on Feb. 16, this year, at the Hotel Bristol, Dr. MacDougal presiding. Two distinguished men who had accepted conditionally our invitation to be with us, found the conditions against them, but sympathy with the absent ones did not prevent those present from having a good time. This meeting was remarkable in that every year of the University's history was embodied in the joint experience of those present. It also covered a larger geographical area than any previous gathering, in that we had representatives from Baltimore and Washington on the south, and Boston on the north, and from intermediate points,—to say nothing of the letters and telegrams of regrets from those who could not come. The questions of organization and of ways and means were left to a committee of five, which is to be selected by the present committee. I am now worrying about organizing the new committee, which I hope to have in working order in about a month. The next dinner will probably happen early in next February, and we would like to have as many of you as can manage to do so be present with us on that occasion.

BENJ. C. GRUENBERG.

Mr. Gruenberg reports the names of one hundred and twenty-five alumni, former students and members of the faculty, in New England.

MEETING OF ALUMNI IN BOSTON.

No. 45 KELBY ST., BOSTON, MASS., 4-25-'01.

Mr. E. B. Johnson, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.—

Dear Sir: We are to have a banquet in May to get together all the former students and instructors of the U. of M. who may now be in or about Boston or in New England.

Will you kindly send me, at above address, your latest list of the students now located in New England and very greatly oblige,

Yours very truly,

W. A. CHOWEN, B. C., Ex-'91.

AN ALUMNI WEEKLY A POSSIBILITY.

A year's experience has demonstrated that for a students' paper the Daily is an unqualified success. Yet as an alumni organ the result is different. Over half of the Daily is filled each day with items that are of no interest to alumni. Consequently the subscription list from the alumni has fallen off in as large a proportion as the student subscription list has increased. As a result of this failure of the Daily to fill the needs of the alumni, the Daily management has in view the establishment of a separate paper to be devoted exclusively to alumni interests. The plan of getting out such a paper, to start with would be to save out of each Daily during the week such articles as would be of interest to alumni and print the matter in a special weekly issue, which would also include other suitable news gathered by an alumni editor. The subscription price of such a paper, if started, will be $1 per year and in size would be eight pages of three columns each, the columns each being ten inches long. Of course this would only be the size to start with and then as interest grew the size would expand accordingly.

In time the paper could be edited entirely separate from the Daily, but to start with the expense of getting out a special alumni paper would be too great as compared with the support which can be relied upon to warrant its establishment. As before stated, the management of the Daily has in contemplation the starting of such a paper, but it can be said with certainty that it will not be started until the alumni have shown a willingness to support it. It is hoped that every alumnus who is interested in such a project will write a card or letter to the Manager of the Minnesota Daily, stating that he would be willing to pay $1 if such a paper is started. If a sufficient number of responses are had the paper will be started at the re-opening of school year in September.
